THE MICROBIOME THROUGHOUT LIFE

Translating new science into clinical practice

19 - 21 March 2026 – Belgrade, Serbia

ALEXANDRA BAUŠIĆ

Dr. Alexandra Baušić is a specialist doctor in Obstetrics and Gynecology and has a particular interest in endometriosis and fertility. Her work integrates evidence-based medicine with a patient-centered approach, aiming to improve diagnostic pathways and optimize fertility care for women affected by endometriosis.

Her PhD research approaches to the early and accurate detection of this complex and often underdiagnosed condition. In her thesis, she has authored a chapter on the intestinal microbiome, exploring its emerging role in endometriosis' diagnosis.
